

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 19, 2010

Contact: Meghan Stinton
Marketing & Communications Manager
Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce
E-mail: mstinton@cwcc.org
Phone: 303-458-0220

Senior VP Corporate Communications of IMA Financial Group to Speak at Women's Chamber Luncheon

DENVER – Leanna Clark, APR, will speak about her life experiences at the Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce DTC Luncheon from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on March 4 at Maggiano's DTC, 7401 S. Clinton St. in Englewood, CO.

The luncheon is sponsored by Front Range Bank. The cost is $27 for CWCC members and $37 for non-members and walk-ins. Register online at www.cwcc.org.

Clark is Senior Vice President of Corporate Communications for IMA Financial Group, one of the country's leading independent insurance brokers, risk management and financial services firms. In addition, Clark serves as Executive Director of the company's philanthropic arm, IMA Foundations, which actively gives to non-profit interests in the communities where the company operates. She also serves as Executive Director of the PhilanthroTravel Division for Project C.U.R.E., an international nonprofit based in Denver that delivers medical supplies and equipment to developing nations worldwide.

An active member in the community, Clark is on the board of directors for the Public Education and Business Coalition, and the Denver Metro Chamber Leadership

Foundation. She is also on the Metro Denver Sports Commission's International Bid Committee, working to bring international-caliber sporting events to the Denver area, and also serves on the Advisory Board to the Dean of the University of Colorado at Boulder's School of Journalism and Mass Communication, helping ensure the university continues to be a leader in training tomorrow's communications professionals.

In 2009, Clark was recognized as the Women of Distinction by the Girls Scouts of Colorado for her commitment to making the world a better place for the girls of today and tomorrow. She has also been honored by the Denver Business Journal as a "PowerBook" award recipient and one of the "Forty Under 40" top young business leaders. She has also received national recognition from the Universal Press Syndicate as part of its "Workwise" Awards, honoring innovation and creativity among workplace leaders. In addition, she was named a "Woman of Achievement" by the Association for Women in Communications. Clark holds a degree in journalism from the University of Colorado at Boulder, where she graduated with the highest honors.

About the Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce:

Since its creation in 1988, The Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce (CWCC) has played a significant role in growing business in Colorado. The CWCC was the nation's first chamber of commerce focused on creating a successful economic community for women in business. With more than 1,100 active members, the CWCC is currently one of the largest women's chambers in the nation. With the mission of creating an environment and the resources conducive to our members' business success, the CWCC is the premier organization that provides opportunities and visibility for women in business through relationship development, education, mentorship, partnership and alliances. CWCC provides many opportunities to become more involved and build relationships. Events include; monthly luncheons (Downtown, DTC and a North Luncheon), business after-hours, business expos, workshops and a procurement series. There are five leads groups as well as numerous committees available to members to build alliances, help launch successful events, expand their network and demonstrate their talents and commitment to others. For more information on the Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce, call 303-458-0220, e-mail info@cwcc.org or visit www.cwcc.org.

###