Boulder Adventurer to Inspire Young Professionals

DENVER – February 24, 2010 – Ryan Van Duzer, an adventurer from Boulder, Colo., will speak at the Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce's Young Professionals Group after-hours connection network event, March 4 from 5:30p.m.-7:30p.m. This event will be held at the Breckenridge Brewery at 2220 Blake St. Denver, CO 80205 and will include hors d'ourves and one complimentary drink ticket. Admission is $10 for members and $15 for non-members and walk-ins.

This event will provide its attendees with an opportunity for networking and to listen to the inspiring and empowering experiences of Ryan Van Duzer. Van Duzer is a big believer of following your dreams and will address the topic at the Young Professionals event.

Van Duzer is a role model to all young professionals. Being a "bit" of an adventurer and avid cyclist, Van Duzer has traveled all over the world. After finishing two years as a Peace Corps volunteer in Honduras, his biggest bicycling adventure included a 4,000-mile trek from Honduras to Boulder. He has ridden from Maine to Key West along the entire eastern seaboard, and while sporting a New Belgium cruiser bike that took him from Oceanside, Calif. to Washington D.C, Van Duzer raised money for Community Cycles along with spreading good bike cheer along the way.

When Van Duzer is not traveling the world, he spends his time writing an article entitled "Out There" for the Daily Camera in Boulder. He also hosts and produces for The Travel Channel and National Geographic. To learn more about Ryan Van Duzer visit www.ryanvanduzer.com.

The Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce's Young Professionals Group is designed for professional men and women ages 21-39. The mission is to foster a community of young dynamic professionals to cultivate an environment of education, growth and balance. The Young Professional Group offers many beneficial opportunities, such as the connections network, for its members to have a chance to not only network but to experience an educational component of business.
